EXTREME ICU ENVIRONMENT

IAVANTE will stage an ICU model at a stand to show the methodology to be used in extreme and complex situations of high uncertainty. In other words, how medical professionals would act in scenarios as stressful as a war, the International Space Station or the Artemis missions.

The aim is to replicate a clinical environment in which drastic decisions have to be taken in critical places, whether in the cockpit of an Airbus 320 or in a bathyscaphe of the dimensions of the Titan.
